科目の目的と概要	English language ability is important for nurses. English I-B 2 is an English communication course and is a continuation of the trimester 1 course. The same textbook will be used as in the trimester 1 course. The course goal is for students to improve their basic English speaking and listening skills while learning Nursing English. A wide variety of relevant and meaningful speaking and listening activities are used in class to maximize student interaction. This is a learner-centered class, so students must participate actively in every class.
到達目標	1. Students can practice speaking Nursing English. 2. Students can practice listening to Nursing English. 3. Students can practice their overall English communication skills. 4. Students can actively participate in English group work. 5. Students can actively support and help partners during English pair work and group work.

その他の授業の工夫	This is a student-centered class that uses active learning. The teacher does not call on students to answer questions or recite dialogues during class. Students do speaking and listening activities together in pairs and small groups to maximize student interaction. Such interaction teaches students the importance of mutual support in language learning. The teacher monitors student practice and offers support and encouragement when necessary.
時間外学修	In the week before each class, students should prepare by reading all materials and looking up words and phrases that they do not understand (7h). In the week after class, they should review all materials and practice the pronunciation of difficult words and phrases so they can use these smoothly and effectively during the next class (12h).
評価方法と評価割合	Active Class Participation, Effort and Attitude during Each Class: 50% Final Examination: 50% (注) Important Information 1: Absence (regardless of reason) or non-participation in two classes results in a reduction of the final class grade down one level; in three classes it results in a reduction of the final class grade down two levels; in four classes it results in a failing grade. (注) Important Information 2: Students, not the instructor, are responsible for being aware of the number of their absences.
